

PETAR MILADIN

Mr. Petar Miladin was born at Dubrovnik in 1973. He completed a general-programme secondary school at Zagreb and graduated from the Faculty of Law in Zagreb. Upon completion of the studies he was employed at the Municipal and the Commercial court of Zagreb as a trainee (law clerk). He passed a bar examination in 1999. He is a full professor at the Faculty of Law of the University of Zagreb of subjects such as commercial law, corporate law and banking law. Since October 2013 until October 1, 2015 he was a vice dean at the Faculty of Law of the University of Zagreb. He took a master degree in the post-graduate programme of scientific studies in commercial law and corporate law at the Faculty of Law of the University of Zagreb by defending a master thesis titled Banking secret and banking information in 1999. On January 27, 2005, he defended a doctoral dissertation titled Payment by remittance at the Faculty of Law of the University of Zagreb, and acquired the academic title of doctor of sciences in the scientific field of law (SJD). As of May 5 1997, he was employed at the University of Zagreb as a junior assistant at the Department of commercial law and corporate law. He published fifty-odd scientific papers in the area of Commercial law, Banking law and the Capital market rights. He teaches at the Faculty of Law of the University of Zagreb in the programme of doctoral studies in commercial law and corporate law the following subjects: commercial law, corporate law and banking law.